

I would appreciate if commercials and program previews during "family hour", i.e. before 9 p.m. weeknights would NOT include advertisements for male sexual enhancement, enhanced sexuality for men/women, and DESPARATE HOUSEWIVES content. My children do NOT need to be exposed to such sexually overloaded commercials. RE: Desp HW, I do not appreciate having to watch a woman gyrate in lingerie in front of a man she's not married to or someone else is married to. We are a conservative home trying to raise our children with some respect for themselves and others (with regards to sex) - They are hear enough junk at school, we would like to watch TV and not be embarassed by what pops up; advertisements/commercials such as these greatly undermine our efforts.

Thank you.
